FALL RIVER'S GREAT STRIKE

STRUGGLE EQUALS IN DURATION THAT OF 1894.

After This Week It Will Be the Longest in the History of the City-Both Sides Willing to Confer, but Neither Desires Compromise-Many in Want.

FALL RIVER, Oct. 2 .- The tenth week of the great cotton mills strike closed yes-terday and to-morrow, the date originally agreed upon as the time for opening the gates and testing the feeling of the operatives, will pass with nothing more substantial to encourage the people than the hope of a conference between manufactarers, textile unions and the State Board of Arbitration, and a compromise. The conference is a probability; the compromise a very remote possibility.

The prediction made at the outset that the strike would prove the longest and bitterest on record in more than a decade is about to be verified. The strike of 1894 continued eleven weeks and resulted in victory for the manufacturers. This one will go over eleven weeks, unless something that the most optimistic would not forecast to-day occurs. On the eve of the opening of the eleventh week, each side seems as determined as it was when each declared that the other was unreasonable and the strike was begun.

After a fight of ten weeks the condition of affairs in the city is deplorable. No one DIVIDENDS AND INTEREST.

H. W. GARDINER, Assistant Treasurer.

New York, September 7, 1904. realizes that fact more than the business men. At the opening of a season that is for holiday trade at hand, they find themselves in a most trying position. They must stock up, but to what extent they are at a loss to determine. The people to whom they look for their business have little or no money and their source of income is gone. The mill workers will have little to spend. excepting for necessities, for many weeks after the mills are started.

The Merchants' Association decided early last week that it was time to make a move. A committee was appointed to interview all concerned and to endeavor to bring about a conference at which a settlement might be effected. There is some chance that the conference will be held this week, but the business men must start it. Each side has expressed a willingness to go into the conference, but neither will take the initiative.

N. B. Borden, president of the Manufacturers' Association, when approached upon the subject simply said that he would agree, as he felt that no harm could come of such an arrangement. The same sentiment was expressed by the labor leaders.

There have been two propositions made, the one a counter to the other. It was suggested to the labor leaders that they agree to a truce of sixty days, that they advise the operatives to return to work with the promise that if at the end of sixty days business conditions improved and wages were not restored they come out again.

In reply the labor leaders suggested that the mills take down their notices of reduction of wages, operate the mills for sixty days, and if at the end of that time they felt that the reduction was necessary. to put them up again. President Borden's answer to that is that the mills have been running for nearly a year without profit, the directors hoping that each month would see a change for the better.

In view of these facts it is regarded as highly improbable that either side will agree to any compromise, despite the presence of the State board, whose members will do all in their power to bring about a settlement. Failure on their part means that the strike will be prolonged, and that the worst winter Fall River has ever seen will probably come. Many manufacturers feel. that the only real way to tell just where they stand is to open the gates, and those who condemned and blocked the move-

EDWARD BRUSH, Secretary. that they made a mistake. It is estimated that during the ten weeks the operatives have lost nearly $1,500,000 in wages. The loss to the mills cannot be estimated with any degree of accuracy. They have converted their cloth into cash but at a cost of complete curtailment and the loss on their capital invested caused by the period of idleness. The real effect will be shown when they resume operations and ascertain just how much of their market for contracts they have lost.

It is a well known fact that many large contracts were refused last month because the agents could not guarantee to fill them. There is a great deal of suffering among the operatives, who were penniless when the strike opened or a month later. They are receiving aid from the unions if they SINKING FUND NOTICE.

CENTRAL TRUST COMPANY OF NEW YORK, are union operatives. The non-unionists have been dependent upon the pauper department of the city or the relief stations that are supported by voluntary contributions.

The strike leaders are encouraged by the circular sent out by the American Federation of Labor and believe that it will result in an income from all over the country. Thousands of dollars have come from the outside, but when added to union funds and distributed in weekly allowances, which are smaller than the members expected, the sums fall far short of requirements. Murmurings of discontent are heard among the non-union help. They have fought well and many of them feel that they should receive more assistance from the unions. All of the contributions from unions outside of the city go into the union funds here. Non-union hands do not see a cent of it. The soup kitchens and relief stations son, chairman of the Texas State Boll Weevil Commission, returned to-day from a ten days inspection trip through the cotton belt of the State. He visited every part of the cotton growing region and made a careful examination of the cotton crop He says that he has no reason to change his recent estimate of a 2,640,000 bale crop for Texas and that the yield will positively not be less than that. or the pauper department are the places for them and they are beginning to feel their position. Hundreds of families have left the city for other manufacturing centres or for Canada, some of them to return no more. When the strike was begun the population was nearly 115,000 persons. Now does not exceed 100,000, if it reaches that

POISONOUS LOVE POWDERS. Negro Says He Put Them in the Mulligan

Family's Food to Do Good. LEXINGTON, Ky., Oct. 2.-Louis Mitchell. the negro arrested for attempting to poison the family of Judge James H. Mulligan here one week ago, was seen in his cell in the county jail here to-night and asked to tell of the sworn confession he made to Judge Mulligan on last Sunday afternoon.

When the powder, which afterward proved to be arsenic, was first given to me by Jim Mulligan, he told me it was a love powder that would make Miss Jennie (Mrs. Mulligan, his stepmother) love him as she did her own children. He told me to put it in a cup of coffee or tea that was to be taken by her, and that three days afterward he would give me $100. "I took the blue package to the house and, after thinking it over, concluded that if it was a love powder it would be wise to give it to all the members of the family and let them all learn to love Mr. Jim the same as Mrs. Mulligan, and in order to carry out this I placed it in the salmon salad."

Mitchell then said that after placing the food on the table he began to think that the actions of Jim Mulligan, after giving him the powder, were not those of a man who was trying to earn the love of his stepmother, and he weakened at the last moment and refused to allow the family to partake of the food.

months ago, having tramped all the way from Buenos Ayres. They made their home at 461 Scotland street, where they were known as Mr. and Mrs. Sperber. They attracted considerable attention, chiefly because of the khaki bloomers which Mrs. Sperber wore on the streets.

It was learned that the couple had met in Buenos Ayres, and as they were both writers and press correspondents they conceived the foot tour up through the Isthmus. They say that their marriage certificate was lost somewhere along the line of march and they realized that the occasion might arise when it would be necessary for them to show some tangible proof that they were man and wife, so on Friday Mrs. Sperber called on Justice Temme and arranged for the nuptials.

BUTTE MINE TO CLOSE DOWN.

THE EMMA ABANDONED AFTER COSTLY DEVELOPMENT.

Klondike Output This Year $11,000,000 —Strikes in Goldfields District, Nevada —Homestake Hasn't Suspended Dividends-Crippie Creek's Big Yield.

BUTTE, Mon., Sept. 27.—Unable to raise the necessary funds to develop its property further, the officers of the Butte Mining and bandonment of the Emma mine, in the heart of the city. More than $200,000 has been expended in the development of this mine. due to the treacherous character of the ground, the tremendous volume of water encountered and the great size of the vein to be explored. A depth of 800 feet was attained and many thousand feet of crosscuts, drifts, winzes and upraises were run. Indications were favorable and many spots of rich ore were found in the upper workings, but none of sufficient extent for profitable mining. At the 800 foot level some good veins of silver-lead-gold ore were found, but they carried so much zinc that the ore could not be mined in order to test the value of the Emma thor-oughly it would be necessary to go down at least 700 feet more, at an estimated cost of about $150,000. Every effort has been made to raise this amount, but without success. It is the belief of many of the best qualified judges and mining experts that with sufficient depth the Emma will produce copper.

A strike has been made in the Fleecer

The operators decided some time ago that

Mountain country of ore running 20 to 30 per cent. copper. Fleecer Mountain is in Silver Bow county, about twenty miles southwest of Butte, and it has been prospected for mineral for many years. Jeremiah Hore, Edward Trevethen and John Farley of Butte and John Vinson of Divide struck a vein about four months ago high up on the mountain, and since then have been searching for the vein lower down.

A few days ago they discovered it under a wash 1,700 feet below the discovery. The ground has not been sufficiently opened to determine the extent of the vein, but it has been crosscut for six feet from one wall. A been crosscut for six feet from one wall. A lot of samples have been brought to Butte and they look good to mining men.

A rich strike of high grade copper ore has been made in the Dutton mine, in East Butte. This mine is one of the oldest in the camp and has produced $350,000 worth of ore.
The strike was made on the 350-foot level and be even the foot tour up through the Ishmus. They say that their marriage certificate was made on the 30-foot level and the first of the property of the company of the com encouraging and all previous reports of new and rich strikes are confirmed. At present there is more improved machinery along the streams of the Tanana country than was ever seen in the Klondike in its early days.

Explorations in the tin mining district of Cane York have been prosecuted diligently this season, but they have not resulted in the discovery of a ledge of tin in place. Placer tin, however, has been found more abundantly, and several shipments have been made to Seattle-one shipment have been made to Seattle-one shipment last week amounting to fifty tons. While better results were anticipated, prospectors are not discouraged and propose to stay in the district during the winter.

Beaver Creek is a new district that is now dividing honers with Tanana. It is equidistant from Rampart, Circle and Fairbanks and has already attracted ever 400 miners from the older districts. The naines are located on the headwaters of Beaver Creek, 120 miles from the mouth of the creek. One hundred and fifty locations have been made within the last month. The disgings are shallow and are pronounced as rich as those of Tanana.

BRITISH COLUMBIA. SEATTLE, Sept. 26.—On Valdes Island, pear Seymour Narrows, Portland men are engaged in opening up some claims in basalt thoroughly impregnated with native copper. The veins or seams are from 60 to 75 feet wide and have been traced along the water's edge for several hundred feet. This deposit is said to resemble the copper deposits of Michigan and can be opened up with equal advantage. Michigan and can be opened up with equal advantage.

In Boundary district within the last week several important properties have changed hands and further changes are anticipated. This is one of the first mining districts in the province and the shipments of copper and silver-lead ores have been steady. The Providence is still improving and the owners who have stayed with it persistently for years are now receiving their reward. The American Boy, owned by Seattle parties, is of the same character as the Providence.

same character as the Providence.

NEYADA.

RENO, Sept. 26.—The sensation of the week has again come from Goldfields, where ore on the Kendall lease of the Sandstorm mine ran as high as $60,000 to the ton and a ledge twelve inches wide averaged $20,000 a ton. These figures are declared to be genuine by trustworthy persons. The strike has caused another stampeds to Goldfields, which is growing faster than Tonopah in its early days.

In the Quartzite Faction mine a ledge with the greatest depth yet reached is only fifty feet.

The Tonopah mines are all doing well, but the camp is injured by the feet that the mines are all very heavily capitalized and the wildest speculation has taken place in the shares of most of the companies. Very few of the mines have less than 1,000,000 shares, so that if dividends are declared they must be very small.

The newest camp on the desert near Goldfields is Gold Crater. It is twenty miles southeast, and about 100 locations have been made. The formation is similar to that at Goldfields, but as yet nothing more than $80 ore has been found.

CALIFORNIA.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 26.—The Gladstone mine near French Gulch, Shasta county, is producing $23,000 per month and the Midas gold mine near Harrison Gulch is paying from $22,000 to $27,000 a month. Gold bricks from the two mines were shipped last week. The mines are owned by the Hazel Gold Mining Company and are the best paying quertz mines in Shasta county.

In the Tightner mine in Nevada county, which is a famous gold producer, a new strike has uncovered a large copper ledge, which accompanies the quartz ledge, carrying large values in gold. This copper ledge had accompanied the quartz ledge as a false hanging wall, and when the quartz ledge took a dip the copper came out squarely in the breast of the drift. The ledge is more than four feet wide, and the assays show copper ore of high value. Besides native copper, the ledge carries black and brown oxides of copper, all in soft porphyry, tale and decomposed quartz. CALIFORNIA.

CALDWELL, Sept. 25.—The Clover Leaf mine at Idaho City has been bought by an Eastern company. The ledge is developed to the depth of nearly 200 feet, and the ore, in a vein from three to four feet wide, will average at least $10 per ton in free gold. The company will erect a ten-stamp mill.

Considerable work is going on in the mines of Wilson Creek, on the Middle Fork of Salmon River. Two arastras were constructed and have been running successfully. One turned out $2,500 in six weeks.

The property which the Guggenheim company is operating on Boyle Mountain, Upper Wood River, is showing up splendidly. After developing the vein in the upper works, which showed a body of zinc-lead ore four feet thick, a deep adit was begun. After driving this 300 feet into the mountain, ore was reached and the drift soon cut into a solid body of zinc for fifty feet. A crossout was then run forty feet without reaching the foot wall.

Development work on the Accident claim, joining the South Africa on the east, at Idaho City, has proven it to be a valuable property. The width of the vein is not known, but so far as crossout the ore is high grade in free gold. The owners of the South Africa hold an option on it. There is no doubt that an Eastern company will soon purchase both mines and put up a mill. Any number of stamps could be kept dropping for several years without sinking in the mine. It is, in fact, an immense quarry.

IN THE BLACK HILLS.

LEAD, Sept. 27.—Some e-onsternation has been created among the mining men of the Black Hills over the report in a Chicago newspaper that the Homestake mine had suspended payment of dividends. There has been no suspension and there is no likelihood that there will be. The Homestake Mining company has just paid its 312th consecutive monthly dividend of 25 cents per share, amounting to $54,600. The Homestake has not passed a dividend since October, 1878, and in that time has paid its shareholders $12,858,150. These figures represent only what the Homestake company itself has distributed and do not take into consideration the dividends paid by various companies that have since become consolidated with or purchased by the Homestake company.

A most gratifying condition in the mine is shown in the last report of the company to its stockholders. The company mined and milled last year 19,980 tons more ore than was milled the year previous. There was an increase in the bullion receipts over the previous year of $273,816.44, and an increase in the average value per ton of ore or 15.6 cents.

Deadwood Guich is 130 feet deep and still in ore. The vein is dipping slightly to the westward and is expected to leave the shaft in the course of the next few feet. A new shaft house of temporary character has been bullt and will suffice until the present horse whim is replaced by a steam hoist.

The annual meeting of stockholders of the Clover Leaf Gold Mining Company will be held at Beulah, Wyo., Oct. 25. There will be submitted to the stockholders a proposed amendment to the by-laws, authorizing an increase in the company's indebtedness, either by the issuance of $250,000 second mortgage bonds, or by an increase in the issuance of $250,000 second mortgage bonds, or by an increase in the issuance of $250,000 second mortgage bonds, or by an increase in the issuance of $250,000 second mortgage bonds from $250,000 to $500,000. The company is contemplating further costly improvements upon

The outlook, however, is quite good.

BISBEE, Ariz., Sept. 27.—In the Higgins development property, on which a tunnel has been driven under the top of the mountain to cat some ore found in surface exploration, several feet of good ore have been exposed. It is at no considerable depth and the tonnage exposed is yet quite meagre, but the exploration is looking better than at any time since the company began work, two years ago.

The new mine of the Cochise Consolidated Copper Company in the Chiricahua Mountains is employing about twenty-five men and is making shipment to Douglas smelters. The ore carries considerable lead in addition to its copper. Harry Alexander, now of New York, but formerly of El Paso, is president, and the funds have been furnished by Pittsburg and Scranton persons.

An explosion of molten slag last Sunday caused the total destruction by fire of the Val Verde smelter, twenty miles east of Prescott. The plant had a capacity of 300 tons daily and cost $150,000 to $200,000.

LAKE SUPERIOR COPPER.

HOUGHTON, Mich., Oct. 1.—Labor conditions in the Lake district are satisfactory, there having been no strikes since last spring, when there was some uneasiness and loss of time at the Quincy, Baltic, Trimountain and Champion mines. Wages remain at high water mark and the supply of labor is plentiful. It is known, however, that members of the Western Federation of Miners have been "planted" in the Lake district, and some of the local men have joined that organization.

A premature rumor that the Allouez had cut the Kearsarge lode was circulated in Boston on Monday of this week. The exact time for this consummation cannot be stated, but is certainly near at hand. Underground conditions at the Ahmeek indicate the likelihood that the Allouez will bottom its shaft in copper-bearing rock of considerably more than averser richness.

A few of the old-time pessimists are inclined to withhold their approbation of the copperrock now coming from the Section 2 shaft of the Isle Royale mine, using the argument that rock equally as good was taken from openings to the northward in early days. While the isle Royale lode may have produced some rock as good as that coming from the new shaft, the quantity was exceedingly limited, and the new shaft gives promise of opening, not a patch, but a wide bar, of good copper ground.

The Mohawk mill is now running to its full capacity. There is room for a fourth stamp, which doubtless will be installed within the next three years. At present the mine is furnishing 1,500 tons of rock daily without crowding, but might feel the drain of a one-third increase. The Trimountain has not yet recovered entirely from the exhausting production of its first year, made in response to Thomas W. Lawson's insistent demand for dividends. LAKE REGION IRON MINES.

DULUTH, Minn., Oct. 1. - Iron making along the upper Lakes in close proximity to iron mining is on the increase, and there has never been as large a product in that district as now. The daily product is now between 900 and 1,000 tons, more than three fourths of which is charcoal iron.

The only coke furnace in the region is that of the Zenith Furnace Company at Duluth, which is making 250 tons daily of Bessemer iron. The company is shipping most of its iron to the Sault for steel rail making.

130 gross tons of high grade charcoal iron daily. From its by product reports it is producing 2,500 gallons daily of 25 per cent. retined methyl alcohol, 1,250 pounds of acetate of lime, and some 200 barrels of wood tar. The ores used some 200 barrels of wood tar. The ores used are from the company's mines at Ishpeming and Negaunee with a little from its Ashland mine at Ironwood.

Since a week ago the product of the Bessemer district, Gogebic Range, has greatly increased and it is expected that all stocks on surface will be moved by the close of navigation. Shovels have been set into the stocks of Colby, Tilden and Anvil, and are loading about 10,000 tons a day.

SAY POLICEMAN WANTED $10. The Girls Can't Prove It, He Rejoins, and They Can't, Either.

Maggie Williams of 141 East Fourth street and Lottle Gilbert of 232 East Twenty-first street were arrested late on Saturday night at Nipth street and First avenue by Policeman Delanev of the Fifth street station and were fined $10 by Magistrate Ommen yesterday in the Yorkville court.

After paying their fines they told Miss Smith, matron in the court, and afterward told the Magistrate, that it was because they refused to give the policeman $5 each that they were arrested. He asked them. they said, why they didn't put up $5 apiece, as the other girls did, and thus avoid arrest. The policeman denied this, and said that

The policeman denied this, and said that the girls had been arrested frequently of late and were trying to get square. The Court found that they had been arrested three times within four months.

"They ought not to be sore on you with that number of arrests," said the Magistrate to Delaney. "Some of the girls come in here three times a week."

"It is easy enough for these two girls to allege these things," said the policeman. "but they cannot prove them."

"Perhaps they cannot," continued the Magistrate, "but it doesn't seem to me that they would come in here and say this to frighten the police. I think their testimony is at least entitled to consideration."

Policeman Roth of the same station as Delanev then interrupted with the exclamation: clamation:

clamation:

"Do you think, Judge, that my pardner would make any such arrangements behind my back? I know that it is all a lie."

"That's it," said the Magistrate; "it is the hardest thing in the world to go up against the New York police force. All the cops stand by each other. Why," continued the Judge, turning to Delaney, "if you should go down there to your precinct and tell your story, every policeman in that station would be here to appear with you."

Because there was no stenographer in court the Magistrate instructed the girls to come in to-day, when he might hear their complaint and record it.

TOUGHS CONTROL A VILLAGE. Two Desperadoes Shoot Up the Settlement of Little Fork, Minn. DULUTH, Minn., Oct. 2 .- A runner who was sent secretly by the citizens of Little Fork River, in northern Itases county, to the Sheriff at Grand Rapids, brought news that the village has been in the hands of two desperadoes for two days. The runner left there late Thursday night.

The village has about 250 inhabitants and is far removed from means of quick communication. The toughs, it is said are dressed like woodsmen. They first appeared in Beasley Olson's salcon. Without warning they began shooting up the place. The proprietors and by were terrified. The place was turned over were terrified. The place was turned over to the desperadoes and after emptying the cash drawer of $150 and helping themselves to more liquor and cigars they left. They then held up a hardware store for guns and ammunition and then went after the other two saloons, which were held up after the manner of the first. At intervals the men would appear in the street and fire a fusillade to intimidate the people. It is fea ed that there will be bloodshed before the authorities of Itasea county can get to Little Forks.

In his message the leader of the Holy Ghost and Us society orders his followers to pack up their earthly goods and come at once to Shiloh where, in order to take care of the large numbers that are expected, a great many small houses are being built around the hilltop. These houses are scattered around on the farms that Mr. Sanford has bought. Some of these houses are being finished and plastered, while others are more cheaply built.

There is a strong tendency among Sanford's followers to comply with this demand, as he has announced that any who do not come to him will probably be lost. do not come to him will probably be lost.

BILLET RATES NOT SHAVED. B. F. Jones Denies Stories of Price Cutting Among the Steel Men.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Oct. 2.-B. F. Jones of Jones & Laughlin, one of the biggest iron and steel firms of the country, to-night denied strongly the story published that some members of the billet pool had been selling billets at $17.50 a ton.

"There is no foundation for any such story," said he. "There is no friction be-tween the different manufacturers and why should there be any price cutting? On the contrary, most of the manufacturers are so crowded with orders that they can hardly fill them. Why, then, should they shave rates?"
